The UAE Reaffirms Regional Peace Efforts at Historic Meeting

April 4, 2022

UAE Minister of Foreign Affairs and International Cooperation HH Sheikh Abdullah bin Zayed attended the "Negev Summit" in Israel with his counterparts from the US, Israel, Egypt, Morocco and Bahrain, reaffirming the importance of working together to enhance collaboration and foster a more prosperous future.

"It's by us standing together, it's by our people-to-people relationships. It's by creating a better environment for our businesses to work with each other. That's the way we can go after the narrative of hate, of incitement," said His Highness on the Abraham Accords.

This Month in History

This April marks one year since the groundbreaking UAE-US Agriculture Innovation Mission for Climate (AIM for Climate) was announced at the White House Leaders Summit on Climate. The joint initiative is building resilient and sustainable food systems through agricultural innovation and raising global ambition on transformative climate action. Officially launched at COP26, AIM for Climate already raised $4 billion in investment and set a goal to double investment to $8 billion by November 2022.
