This Month in History

On August 28, 2015, the first Emirati Women's Day was launched by "Mother of the Nation" Her Highness Sheikha Fatima bint Mubarak Al Ketbi to recognize how women in the UAE are leading and inspiring the country's progress.

The date, August 28, coincides with Sheikha Fatima's founding of the UAE General Women's Union, four decades prior on August 28, 1975. The holiday mirrors the original mission of the Union: to empower women in the UAE and ensure their voices are heard at all levels.
